

delight

The word "delight" is written in a white, elegant cursive script on a dark, textured background. The letters are fluid and connected, with a long, sweeping tail on the 't'. To the left of the word, there is a decorative flourish consisting of a small branch with leaves and berries. To the right, another similar flourish extends from the top of the 't'.

Delight....,

The delight is a phase where two people love each other unconditionally without any limitations, to have a great attachment to and affection but they never had a chance to live together, and the phase they lived with their hope.

About this book ...

This book is not about any other famous,immortal love stories like " Lyla Majnu,Deva Paru".

This is a story of eternal energy that flows between two hearts. In this world of love there is nothing to explain about this phenomenon,the only way to understand this is , experience the flow of energy through your heart. When you involve yourself in terms of this energy to share your feelings and thoughts to the person you love,then you will find the key to Limit Less Love...

This book tells all about how two hearts connected each other and .The amazing moments that they are created and the definition of purity of love they enjoyed.

Je t'aime Rose

Dedicated to...

This book is dedicated to Raj's Family...

Amma...

His first love, the one who always wanted to see her son in a bright way, because of the only one he came to know the feeling of love. and the reason for his existence.

Nana...

The only superhero he never known in his entire life. He sacrificed his every little needs for just the sake of his children to lead better life

Princess...

Copy cat of his father and little angel in his home. In Raj's religion they used to call her as " LAXMI DEVI".

Love ...

The very own destination of Raj's life. The one who changed his life, the one who inspired him, and the only one who loved him as much as his parents did.

Raj Gollapalli....

Born to parents who are farmers. Raj always wanted to be an individual person in his life. Other like any middle class boy he dreamt his future in an eye-catching way. He didn't achieve any awards or rewards, but in the journey of his life he discovered the true feelings of a hidden heart.

Love..

When we are loved,we always try to become better than ourselves. When we try to be better than ourselves, everything around us gets better.

--Paulo Coelho,the Alchemist

Contents

LOVE

- 1. To Rose,with love.
- 2. The Long Break
- 3. Handsome Devil
- 4. The Insider
- 5. The Flow of Energy

REMEMBRANCE

- 1. The Long Scarf
- 2. Eyes,The Doors To The Heaven
- 3. The Sunshine
- 4. A Night With The Glow of Day
- 5. The Indian Railways

MISTAKES

- 1. The Possessiveness
- 2. Dear Late Reply
- 3. A Beer to Burie
- 4. To The Bestie
- 5. Train To Vijayawada

HOPE

Being Able To See That There Is Light Despite All Of The Darkness.

Chapter-1

To Rose, with love....

This story started 21 yrs ago. In a village which is far from the city full of nature and healthy relationships, There was a man who struggled a lot in his life to be a better person physically, mentally and financially, and in all aspects. He is a man who knows the importance of education, as he struggled a lot to earn some respect in the society. He always wanted to educate his children in such a way that he wanted to give whatever his children needed to pursue a better education. Some years later he got married and had a boy after a year.

One more year passed away, on the day of 08th July 2000 an angel was born to fulfil his father's dreams. And she is the one who changed Raj's life. the guardian angel born for Raj. She used to play with neighbourhood kids and cousins like a rowdy girl. Her childhood was an amazing experience for her. Without any fear, tension she used to enjoy every day with a glow of thousands bulbs on her face . Her father imagined her future and started creating a road towards her goal even though she is still learning to speak properly. "That's father's love for any child."

Later on after some years she joined a school where she found three best buddies to make her life much more thrilling and exciting.

In the school which she started studying, along with her more three monkey friends are joined together. They are named as best buddies in the whole school at a small age. As per their naughty words and things that they created together, the headmaster of the school has given code names to four of them as A,B,C,D.

Our angel was always the first one. She used to be a topper in the class always and she meant to be a class leader as well. Rose was an amazing singer and she used to sing daily in the morning prayers conducted in the school yard.

Her brother was one year older than her and he also studied in the same school. Together they both enjoyed their school life. Including many events and a lot of amazing moments. For many boys in the school she is the ultimate crush for everyone including her best friend.

She continued her schooling with such beautiful moments but one day in the year 2015 she had to take a hard decision. That is to change her school for the next academic year. That moment killed her heart but she was totally disinterested in that.

But her situation didn't give her any other chance, with a lot of pain and a heart full of fear she broke her 10 years relationship with her school and her buddies. Just for the sake of her father.

When she left the school, her besties also went along with Rose. "The Real Friends Never Let You Be Alone". Ofcourse one of them decided to continue in the same school. That's another issue. Now this is a new beginning of their education they have no idea what they are up to, they admitted in other school in the same village, they have no friends at all and everyone used to look at them like 'OMG what's wrong with these girls why did they do that in this crucial time of their education. This continued for weeks and some days later they became good friends like any other. Now they started enjoying their moments again as they did in the past.

She found a special teacher in this school who played a big role in her life. He is a regular government teacher and he is very supportive towards her. He became her favourite teacher in a matter of 2 months. Now they are not at all strangers to any classmate or faculty. As like earlier she always will be in first place. A good relationship with the teachers and their classmates has created Many unforgettable moments.

In the year 2016 they had to write the final examinations. They worked very hard day and night like a warrior trained for a battle.As we know that hard work will never disappoint us,she secured a good percentage of marks. Her family members were so happy to see that and they are anxious for the next move. Then she left her home town for higher education where she found a girl " bestie for life ". They both used to study very hard irrespective of time ,But this time she was far away from their parents,but with the presence of her bestie for life,she never felt alone. In their hostel Life they found a path towards their goals.

They completed their +2 and it's time for them to decide again what would be the next step,but her father already had a vision about his little princess career.Then she decided to continue to study one more year for the sake of her career,Rose had an amazing character. That's the main thing which connects her with her bestie for life. With much love and bonding they have built in the hostel room they both together joined in a same institute for the same purpose. That decision made their bonding much stronger.

After a one year long struggle they wrote the entrance exam that's the initial step for them to build their career.

God will never give the same opportunity twice. This time she had to leave her bestie, because her bestie couldn't qualify the entrance exam. She successfully initiated her first step towards her success. Now the actual journey is yet to begin.

Chapter-2

The Long Break....

Before she started her success journey she had some free time to express herself and to enjoy her life by creating little magical moments with her family and friends.

She was an extremely sleep lover and she had a beloved relationship with her eternal sleep. Every day she used to wake up with her mother's scolding alarm, and that was a lovely moment to her. She put a smile on her mother's face by listening to those ear splitting words full of love. Her father used to enjoy the fight between them, he used to laugh at her mother, due to the fact that she is a little princess, they both together used to make fun of her mother by giving left right joke's.

They both were a team and her brother supported her mom. They used to debate all the time. Her mom was an amazing chef. She used to make tomato pickles with a mouth - watering taste. And laddoos as well. She belongs to a joint family and in the time of holidays she used to spend her whole time with her grandmother and grandfather. Her grandparents had a huge love for her because she is the only hyperactive child in their family. She has an amazing quality that she can still behave like a just born kid sometimes that makes anyone get attracted to her.

Along with her their cousins also used to come there to spend some time with her and enjoy her presence full of positive vibrations. She has a sister who shares everything about her life and takes suggestions from her. She loved her sister and used to guide her regarding personal and official life.

One day on the occasion of summer holidays she went to her grandparents along with all the relative's , together they spent some days creating naughty things every day. They found a bore well near their surroundings, they found that very attractive and they started playing under the borewell irrespective of age. That was one of the craziest moments to her and some of them started dancing to beautiful melody songs. Together they have captured many pictures to secure those moments they have enjoyed.

On the other day her childhood friend from her school came to her home after many days. She is the one who stayed in the same school while the other transferred to another school. On that day she recollected all the moments and achievements they earned. The conversation started around 10 am and continued for more than 2 hrs. Her friend started sharing things that are happening in her personal life as Rose is a mentally matured girl and started giving her best advice to her friend to sort out the things that are happening to her. Her friend went back to her home with a full of confidence which is gained by her friend's motivation. That was another amazing moment in Rose's life.

In between those peaceful days her father planned a secret surprise for her little princess. One day her father came to home in a rush and asked her to "Beta, Go and get ready we have to go somewhere. By the time she heard that, she got a weird feeling like ' what's wrong with my father ' , she asked her father "why dad"? .

Her father didn't give any response to her question. He repeated the same word again to go and get ready.

She went back into her room and dressed up with a good dress. Her mom asked her father where are you both going ? Her father said that I'll tell you later after I come back home.

They both started on bike and he took her daughter to a meeting which is organised by a group of reputed VIP's in a hall near by their village . They both sat together in a group just before the stage, one of them on the stage hosting the event and some great leaders and local politicians explained their best speeches. She is calmly listening to the speeches and suddenly the host called her name to come on to the stage.

She was suddenly surprised for a moment. She didn't realise that what's going on there. Her father took her on the stage and they both were honoured by a shield.

The host asked her to tell her experience and motivate their juniors.

On that day, when her father and she were getting honoured, she looked into her father's eyes and found a spark. That moment she really felt proud.

After that moment she decided to see her father's face always with the glow that she saw just on the stage. On that day she made a decision to never ever disappoint her father.

This was an unforgettable moment in her life. And she became the motivation to many girls like her. Then after some time they came back to their home and explained everything to her mom and her mom was blushing like never before.

With that special feeling her father felt so proud of his daughter. The next day again he said to Beta, go and get ready. She felt that there is something special today also. She silently got ready and this time they started in a car. She sat in the car with complete silence. This time her father took her to the nearby city and told her to go beta buy whatever you want. She was very happy and she loved shopping the whole day. They both enjoyed it a lot. They went to Shopping and followed by a restaurant, and they ate the best biryani ever. This day made the bonding between them much stronger. And they become so close now they are more than father and daughter, they became best buddies. This is another memorable day in her life.

“She did not stand alone but what stood behind her, the most potent moral force in her life ,was the love of her father..”

Chapter-3

The Handsome Devil...

The life of a girl who had a friendly father will always be a Haven to her, Just like rose. She never had any troubles or any tensions because her father was her greatest source of her daresness.

In parallel with her life another story runs out in a different way: a boy who lives in the same village along with her. Both are completely strangers to each other; they never knew that their life would go in this way.

The boy was totally introverted and he never had any best friends and he was so miserable. He studied in the same school where Rose finished her 10 th class, but she never knew this boy as her classmate. During summer days THE LONG BREAK, the boy got a message from a number and it was totally unknown to that boy. He replied to that message and started knowing each other. As the boy had some flirting skills he started flirting with the girl, this continued for 10 to 15 days. But the girl was very clever and broad-minded. She reacted accordingly to the flirting messages. And they continued this for some days. This boy never had any friends in his life but suddenly one day he felt a little connection to the girl who was messaging him. They became friends and the boy was very happy that he got a friend in his life. Later some days it's June 10 Around 12 am he got a call from the girl saying " HAPPY BIRTHDAY". That was the first time he got a birthday wish at exactly 12 o'clock. A drop of water came out from his eyes.

After that they continued this messaging and after some days the bonding increased and their conversation turned to messages .The boy started believing that she is the best friend for his life. One day the boy had to move to the Hostel for his higher education. As he was an introvert and he never had an experience with strangers and Hostel life. He explained his situation to the girl and she started convincing him not to worry about it. She motivated him around 1 hr and the boy got convinced with her talk.

Till then the relationship among them was just friends and day by day the bonding got stronger and stronger.

The boy went to the hostel and the girl went to her college to start her success journey. The regular routine of that boy is to go to college and come to the hostel. The little enjoyment and the place he loves to explore himself is the simple mobile connection with his friend. He used to talk everyday with her, minutes became hour's and they never got bored with each other. The boy started exploring himself with the girl and the girl sharing everything with the boy. One day in his college a girl called him and asked him to be her best friend. The boy felt like there was something wrong, and didn't answer the requests she made. Immediately the boy called his friend and told her what had happened just before. Unexpectedly he felt a connection that he already had a best friend. At that moment he asked her to be her best friend for his life.

Rose accepted the boy's request and the boy was very happy about that. Then the boy started asking "if you accept to be my best friend then you have the right to know each and everything about me ". The girl said yes I would like to.

Then the boy conveyed every single thing about him. His strength, weakness, good habits and bad habits. This conversation went on for several days. The boy started sharing each and everything that happened in his life. It's like a day to day update of himself. The girl decided to be his bestie. Together they both discussed an infinite number of topics and shared their feelings to each other. The regular conversation slowly became an addiction to them. And that was the beautiful and healthy addiction they never had. Several months passed like this. One day another boy started calling the girl and she was talking to that boy. It's a very common thing but this boy felt a strange feeling he never had, he felt very angry all of a sudden without any reason. After some time she called him and the conversation was quite simple like regular calls. This repeated several times.

One day an unknown person called the girl and proposed to her. She told this to the boy and all of a sudden the boy got angry and shouted at her. Saying. " How the hell should they know your number". The boy was totally confused with his behaviour. For two days he asked himself the reason for his behaviour. With a heart full of confidence and face full of glow he came to know that ""HE LOVES HER "".

The actual problem has begun. The boy promised her that he will be a bestie to her. He thought that if he told her his present feelings she would think that he was also flirting like any other boy. He had a fear. What if she left me ? What would she think of me ? Am I cheating on her? . Like these many questions were arrested in his mind. He decided not to tell her about his love, and he continued as a bestie, but deeper inside the true feelings were killing him to explore. He decided to enjoy his love alone and he used to enjoy her presence and feel her love and Caring for him.

He enjoyed the one sided love for some days. He trained himself for days to control his love and emotions. But a bag full of bombs and a heart full of love can't be hidden for long time.

One day he called her and started talking to her and the conversation was quite normal and simple. She felt that something is wrong with the boy and asked him

What is wrong with you?

He didn't say anything and he was still controlling his feelings. The girl keeps on asking that tell her the truth.

With tonnes of fear in his heart and his body were shaking. And the temperature of his body got increased along with that shivering voice he told her I love you. After that there was a long silence which killed the boy with fear and the girl got confused. The boy hung up the call and sat silently.

After some time the girl asked him that , you told me that you will be a just bestie for me and know what all this nonsense is. The boy got tense and he didn't know what to say to her and how to face her. After some long conversation he said sorry to her. He felt that definitely she will leave him.and that lonely life he had in the past ran in his mind for a moment like a spark. Keeping this in his mind he told her that , I will be your bestie and just forget about this thing that i have told you just now.

The girl got convinced and said that it's ok don't repeat this again. That decision became a reason for the existence of an insider.

“Life will become beautiful when the right person enters your life....”

Chapter-4

The Insider....

After that decision the boy and the girl again came back to their regular relationship. they continued as friends some more days. But the feeling of that boy towards his love keeps on multiplying day by day .

On a regular normal day they were talking to each other. They were discussing a topic and the girl was explaining to him, but for a second the boy didn't respond to her. She asked him what happened, the boy suddenly said I Love You. She was confused again and he said it again but much louder this time.

That was the moment an insider was born. The Insider is the person created by the boy and he was born to love her.

Confusingly she asked him why did you say that and he replied, Thats not me, I didn't say that I'm your bestie and the one who said that to another person inside me ,and he loves you. The girl was confused a little bit later on and she understood his feelings. From then onwards they used to talk to each other as friends and sometimes the insider talked to her as a lover. The boy used to express the feelings hidden in the bottom of his heart through the insider.

They made a lot of conversation regarding this love and their situation. She said that we are not supposed to be like this and we are just friends. And the boy said that I'm not asking you to love me back I just said that I'm loving you. She had no words to say and they continued their relationship like that for several months. As everything has an end there was a day to clarify this confusion.

It was 31st December everyone around him was planning for their new year celebrations, but he was in a confused state without any clarity about his relationship with her. He was totally unstable and he couldn't control his feelings. He called her around 9 pm to get clarity and said to her that "I can't be a friend any more ".

He said that because he felt like cheating her with a mask called friendship by hiding his true feelings. Then decided to be a lover to her even though she accepts it or not.

That night she didn't say anything to him. The boy left his hostel and went away to celebrate his new year. He planned everything for the celebrations but in his mind her thoughts are running like a moving picture.

And that was the last day for the insider.

Chapter-5

The Flow Of Energy....

The flow of energy, to understand this we need to have some knowledge regarding science. A famous and we'll known scientist is Nikola Tesla who believed in the number 369. He said that if you find out the relationship among these numbers then you will find the path to supreme source in other words god.

Over decades of years with the knowledge history has given science has developed in a broad way. But till now nobody has an answer for the question "What is the ultimate purpose of life?" And a doctor named Joseph Murphy, a famous Healer, did research on the ultimate source of life and it's reality for his whole life. And he found out the conclusion: everything on this earth is connected to a Higher network. every thought, and every idea connects our conscious reality to the subconscious reality in the form of vibration or energy.

In other words we can say that it is a magical bonding which we cannot determine scientifically. Let's make this much simpler to understand. The world is full of hidden energy that has the power to change our reality. To access this energy the only way is that feeling.

The energy around us contains a certain frequency to communicate with that energy and we can bring whatever we want into our reality. To match the frequency levels is not an easy task. That will happen only in rare cases when the internal feelings of a human being matches the outer energy frequency then they can communicate with the person who produces the same frequency. Without any physical approach. Here let me give a name to that frequency "Love"

According to the above statement based on many researches if a boy and girl Love each other with a strong feeling the eternal energy connects their both frequencies together. That will produce thousands of thoughts and feelings for the person they love. When a boy and a girl get to that stage they can feel the purity of love.

Coming back to our story, Rose and Raj are the best examples for the above statements; they are the proof for eternal energy. To people who thought that we can't trust this and this is a bull shirt story. I'll tell you one thing, love your partner without any restrictions and enjoy their love like you never felt it. then you will get to know this.

One day the boy went to college and she went to her college. They were in a rush in the morning and didn't call each other. Exactly in the afternoon time around 1:25 pm he sat in the college canteen along with his friends and ordered a plate full of noodles. He started eating along with his friends and they were discussing a topic regarding an issue. Suddenly a message came from her. She didn't mention anything in the message; it was just his name. "Raj". As we said above a magic had happened between them, after seeing the message he felt that something was wrong and he suddenly realised that she needed his presence. Then he replied saying

What happened?

She was shocked for a moment and asked him how did you come to know that something is wrong here. He didn't know the reason for that moment and simply said I felt that. From there the magic has started between them.

One more experience is that, one day they were in their village and there was no communication between them for a while. And she was in her home doing her work and suddenly he came across her home and later she asked him, ``Did you come near my home ?'. He replied why are you asking?" and she said that I felt your presence near me and he was amazed for a while . Later he told me that yes I came across your home just before you message me. This was another example of proof that they both had love for each other.

Excluding this they also had a feeling that if they unexpectedly or unexpectedly come near each other their heart beats keep on increasing until and unless they look at each other.

What you write on the inside
You will experience it on the outside...

Chapter -6

The Long scarf....

The long scarf is the biggest memory of the boy in our story. The boy and the girl are addicted to each other. In a regular conversation they had a topic to meet. He asked her, "Let's meet." She felt some fear inside her heart. she didn't reply to any answer to that question. And the conversation for that day ended.

The boy thought that she was feeling insecure to meet him and he decided not to repeat the same topic again. That was the beginning of the new year and those are the starting days of January. From such long conversations between them from the last several months they got to know each other very well and they both decided not to give up their relationship at any cost.

As always said,

" A Woman's Heart Is A Deep Ocean Of Secrets. "

Boy used to sense her love towards him in her voice and the way she felt. Even though he knows the truth, he always wanted to listen while she was speaking.

Those are the most beautiful struggling moments for both of them. He used to ask her daily for her reply about his proposal. She used to enjoy the feeling that the boy is begging for her love. And she knows how much he loves her. But she never wanted to express her feelings to anyone. But for the boy he used to enjoy those moments also. One day a chance came to meet her love and he asked her permission to meet just for one time. After many fights and with lots of conditions finally she agreed to meet.

Then they decided the date to meet each other. The boy used to prepare himself to meet his love. His mind is fully filled with her thoughts and the excitement to meet her for the next few days. He used to imagine everything like what it's going to be? What should I talk about with her? How to talk with her? How can I handle my excitement. ? Those are the most confused questions harassed in his mind. This continued for 10-15 days. Finally the day had arrived. The day for a billion feelings, the day for a thousand thoughts, and the day for limitless love.

It was one day before that special day. On 20 Feb the boy and his love were about to meet in a couple of hours. She started her journey from her college around 9 pm. since her college was located 600km away from the boy's college.

Then the boy started feeling tense about his first meeting with his love. she told him as " I have started just now and I will reach the location in the morning so take rest see you tomorrow".

The boy said Ok, but how could he sleep while a tonnes of fear placed up on his heart. He didn't sleep that whole night. With a heart full of love he was thinking about all the combinations that are going to happen in the morning. He controlled himself for the whole night but at a moment it was around 3am he came to know that he can't wait anymore. Around 3 20 am on 21st February he took his bath with a bucket full of heart water and dressed up within a Span of 10 to 20 minutes. Later after more than 10 minutes he started at the nearby bus stop and took a bus to his destination. He didn't tell her that he started. She thought that he was in a Deep sleep but he reached the location they had decided to meet much faster than the girl.

It's around 4: 40 am and the boy sat in a place with his shivering body. Around 5 10 am she cally him to know whether he came or not, the boy said that I had reached the location 30 min before , the girl was shocked and told him that I'll be arriving in 5 minutes. Then she hung up the call.

The boy started looking at the vehicle slowly arriving towards him. The heart beat of that boy keeps on increasing while the vehicle approaches much closer to him.

It was exactly a Friday early morning at 5 hours 25 minutes he saw his love in front of his eyes for the first time with a long scarf around her neck. With a beautiful face and amazing vibrations. That moment was stored in his heart like a perfect picture in a camera storage Device. For 1 minutes they both just looked at each other without saying any word. Later he said hi to her and then she replied. Both together sat on a seat nearby and she sat just to the right side of him. The boy wanted to look into her eyes but she was very shameful.

After some time his heart beat came to normal and he started talking to her, but she was somewhat uncomfortable. For a moment the boy just observed her without saying any word and that observation made another beautiful moment in his life. The boy observed that her legs were shaking and her hands got wet with sweat. He observed the same feeling and actions that he experienced just before meeting his love. He felt exactly the same as she felt the other feelings. He wanted to check her heart beat as well but he stopped himself not to misbehave like that. After that both together continued their journey to their hometown

That date 21 became his Lucky number and that's the number he used to look at wherever he went. After some days he decided to make his bike number as 21 to remember that day for ever.

He made his bike number as 6393 sum of them all together will become "21".

Chapter- 7

Eye's, The Doors To The Heaven...

This part of the story became a great treasure to him. As a lover they enjoy their loved ones' presence even if they are not present with them. But at one moment he had his love just beside him for almost 4 hrs. Try to imagine the feelings of the boy. Those were treasured moments for him.

After some time they started from the location they were decided to meet. They took a seat and sat together. For some minutes they stayed silent because they didn't realise anything except excitement and tension. Later the boy started the conversation about the journey that she went through last night and they continued the topic for some time. As we know that the society is full of miscalculations, an aged man looks at them in a different manner and she catches that a man is observing them. She felt quite uncomfortable and the boy came to know that. Without asking any word to her, he started looking at the same man with a face full of anger. Then the man realised his anger and went away from both of them. Till today she never knew that this is what happened on that day. After some time the boy touched her hand to show her the speed of his heart beat when she sat along with him.

But He don't why she grabbed her hand in a rude way all of a sudden. They felt quite uncomfortable with that behaviour and stayed calm for some time again.

Later on some other conversations are made by them. And he started explaining his love to the girl he loves. For a moment the boy tilted his body and he went near to her right ear, then slowly he started saying I love you.

Her eyes were about 1.7 inches. She had eyes that made even a peacock feel jealous, the eyes which can kill the angels with an envious feeling, The eyes can smash any boy's feelings within a second, the eyes which will never get old.

With those eyes almost to 180° she looked at him, that was the moment he felt again' in love with her. He felt that those eyes are the doors to heaven. His face was blushed with an unlimited glow and that was the moment he decided that not to let her cry at least even once in her life , he decided that to do whatever he wanted to do just to stay with her for his lifetime. In history there was a quote that " the eyes can explain everything when the heart wants to hide" that day they are the living proof of this quote.

Until that day he used to see her face every day and he couldn't control him at least for a day without seeing her. But from that moment he couldn't stay at least one hour without seeing her eyes...

He used to see her pictures every day and every night but 98/100 th his concentration will be on her eyes..

Her eyes became his second love with the same girl, he had two lovers in the same body...

Somehow, these beautiful, colourful orbs convey emotion and messages without words nor body language....

Chapter- 8

The Sunshine ....

Sunshine is the source of life. For Some people it is just a light,for some others it is a divine source,for some it is a guide to unknown distance. But for him it is an inexpressible feeling.

Once a relationship started to enjoy the presence of their loved one. Then no one can stop them from meeting each other. The first meet gave an amazing experience to both of them and that moment became a lifetime memory to them. After a couple of days they thought of meeting again but this time they wanted to spend some more time with each other. Then the same story started again with excitement,and I slept less nights. He planned everything to express his feelings that he had failed to explain last time. This time he was very confident and enthusiastic.

He wanted to make this meeting an amazing moment and he thought of giving a gift to her,then he started thinking about what to give her.After thinking a long time he decided to give her chocolate as she loves chocolates a lot.

Then he went to a nearby chocolate house and started looking at the chocolates. And he asked the shopkeeper to give the big chocolate. The shopkeeper showed 4 sample chocolates but he was not satisfied with the size of those chocolates. He wanted to give a big chocolate to the one he loves a lot. He went to another shop and there he wasn't satisfied with disappointed face. He took the big chocolate among them and went back to his room. On the date 17 February they wanted to meet each other at the same location and same time. As usual he didn't sleep the whole night and he started to the location early in the morning at 5 am. She is also somewhat interested to meet him.

At 5: 50 am they started their journey together as they did in the last meeting. but there was a lot of crowd because that was the starting days of a global pandemic. They stand near a door and everyone is pushing them. He thought that to keep her safe from the other men in their compartment, he stood in front of her like a shield protecting her. A man just after him pushed very hard and his body went almost to her with a gap of one inch. Their faces were very close with a gap of half inch. With fear she closed her eyes and he just started looking at her like a little boy looking for a teddy. He had a feeling to kiss her but with a lot of difficultys he controled himself. This continued for 10 minutes and their hearts started beating with full speed.

After some time in the next stop some passengers get down. And the seat was empty. She went to the seat and sat there. Later she called him to sit along with her. With a lot of shyness he sat very close to her. Their bodys were touching and he felt a strange connection. A little girl came near them and she was looking at the girl with a beautiful smile and he was looking at his love. He said I love you near her ear, and she was surprised with his voice, which was heard by the little girl's mother just beside them and she started laughing. But he didn't realise that he was in a Dreamland along with his love and saying I love you continuously.

It was around 7 am in the morning she shouted at him to stop saying that, because she felt a little embarrassed. Then suddenly came to reality and stayed calm for a while. He looked at nature From the window and felt somewhat beautiful and enjoyed the present moment along with his love.

That was the winter season and the sun raised somewhat later that day. Every day when the light touches the Earth everything will look beautiful in a magnificent way. There is a reality that when the light touches the flowers early in the morning their life cycle begins. He started again looking at her face and enjoying her vibes.

suddenly ....

" The rays which are responsible for the ultimate energy, heading towards the earth from a distance of 147.24 billion km with a speed of 299792458 m/s, touched her face, and multiplied her beauty infinite times. He looked at her and went to a saturation state, with her stunning beauty. That moment he felt that he sat with an Angel, he talked with an Angel, and he loved an angel, that was a magnificent moment for any lover.

Then his inner mind said that this moment was the living proof of beauty. He felt a Devine feeling and looked at her just like an unbalanced mad man. He decided that he is the only Luckiest in the whole world.

To wake up every morning and to see your beautiful smile is the essence of my life...

Chapter-9

A Night With A Glow Of Day...

For a person who is in love, his greatest desire is to know how much his lover loves him in her own words. Many people have this desire but only few will get a chance to experience it.

When two people love each other they expect the same love from their loved ones, but some people enjoy hiding their love and to see up to what extent of time they can wait for their replay. These moments are more enjoyed by girls. Girls have a fantasy to enjoy the innocence of the person who proposed to her. Rose belongs to this community, but like any human being they also have a wish to express their love and affection. It is a fact that nothing can be hidden for a long time.

The day has come to her to explore herself in a magnificent way. One day they both were at their hostels and they had finished their dinner. Around 8:30 pm Raj called her and started talking to her about her daily routine. They were very joyful. As like any other day he said i love you but she reacted in a different way this time she thought this will never gonna happen and she decided to convince him to give up on her.

Then she made a plan to explain about her in a bad way, in such a way that he couldn't handle her for life long, Then she decided to implement the plan.

Before explaining that, we have to know that once a boy falls in love with the character of a girl then it will become a drug to him. no words, no feelings, no person can change his love towards his love of life. As a first weapon she started the topic that i don't want this relationship and stop loving me, but then he felt her inner feeling and he said that even if you don't want me i will always love you. then she said that i'm not type of girls connects with your family and if i come into your life i will break your family into parts and i don't want to stay with your family if gets married with you, and that became her second weapon, he had a great faith in her character and he said that i know about the girl i love the most in the world, but she started explaining the same topic in different ways.

She had a power that she used to explain things in a very realistic way. The situation she wanted to explain to him came in front of his eyes and started crying like a just born baby, and he knew that it is very hard for her also because he saw how much she loved him.

With that long painful conversation a choice has been given to him to decide family or love. For a moment he felt very blank he didn't know what to say to that question and she is keep on asking that only point over many times, For him family was the only thing in his life, his family is the main reason for his very own existence, He started thinking about the point she was asked, That moment a war declared between his heart and mind.

For any human being family is the first and foremost thing even a god is secondary in front of family. Within a fraction of a second his mind decided to say family is the thing he wants, but his heart couldn't say that, he knew that what he wanted to say was completely wrong and it was an irreplaceable mistake. But his heart is fully occupied with her presence and he said that he wants his love.

She didn't know that he would choose love over family and she said that it is very wrong what you have said just now, and again he said the same thing she felt was very shocking. Then she asked him, ``What made you do this ? What is so special in me? It was around 12: 40 he started explaining all the feelings and emotions to her without hiding anything. That conversation made the whole night much more special.

After this conversation he continued saying i love you to her, then she asked him to stop saying that i'm out of my control, the boy felt something weird because it was the first positive word that came from his love. He asked her to tell what happened and what was wrong with her. Then the love which was hidden inside her heart for months decided to come out, and she started explaining how much she loved him. She remembered each and every moment from the beginning of their relationship she started telling even the little moments she felt in his presence. In rajs life there was a memory from his childhood that her mom used to express her love in a different manner, this can be explained much better in his mother tongue.

amma, thana prema ni matallo cheppalekapoyna chetallo chupinchedi, kani chupinchina aa prema matram dachi dachi okesari chupinchdi.

For that moment while she was talking about her love, suddenly he felt his mother's vibrations and she became a second mother to him that night. She was saying all the moments and feelings which are hidden deeper inside her heart and that conversation went throughout the whole night. For the first time he felt that it was later on she said that lets sleep, its 4 am. but he didn't want to end this beautiful conversation. He wanted that day not to start that much soon and he started praying the sun not to rise faster, and for the moon not to go away sooner. In any relationship the starting conversation is always much more special irrespective of the bonding between them. They spent the whole night looking at each other's faces.

” The rise of his love rays in the middle of a midnight”.

The Best And Most Beautiful Things In This World Cannot Be Seen Or Even Heard, But Must Be Felt With The Heart.

-Helen Keller.

Chapter- 10

The Indian Railways...

Every one says that Indian Railways are the ocean of opportunities. They are the life source for many families, for passengers they are just a transport vehicle and for some people they are the bridge between their life and their goals.

For Raj and Rose the Indian railway is the main gateway to enrich their love. Secunderabad Railway station platform number 06,D9 is the place where they used to meet each other. The platform gave life to two different souls. the journey they made together and the memories they have created all in a train compartment which travels a distance of 1227 km/day. Before meeting her lovers he used to see the trains as a normal transport vehicle like many people. But after the moment he met the love of his life he used to look at them as a bridge to the life wanted to live.

He decided that the train is his favourite vehicle. Krishna express is the name of that train, as its name suggests that, the god of love himself made them meet, this thought was quite amazed in his mind. He used to sit in the railway station for hours just to see his love for 10 minutes. but for him that 10 minutes are key moments to the 10 million feelings in his heart. On the date 21 feb on their first meet, they had a wonderful moments but surprisingly an other moment was created by his love in their second journey, when they are travelling to their home and they sat together he found that his love kept the first train ticket they taken, inside her mobile cover and he was very happy to see her way of expression. No words can explain more than that moment he felt in his heart. Years passed and she used to keep that ticket till today, that's the sign of true love, and he never wanted to lose her in his life.

As lovers they always wanted privacy to spend some time with each other but they never had a private place but the Indian railways gave an option to them. That's why the railways have become one of the greatest reasons for their love.

The 9th intermediate station from Secunderabad is the place where they had privacy to spend some time. They used to get down on that station and since it was a non popular station they had a plenty of privacy they used to sat in that station and talk to each other for at least 1 ½ hour, they made lot of promises to stay together for life time and they used to clear all the doubts about their relationship and took decisions for a better future.

while they are in a conversation he is looking into her eyes and gives a chocolate to her. He didn't know for what reason suddenly she slapped on his face with her hand. He was confused for a while but after a minute he smiled. That was the first fight between them, and he asked her many times to beat him again. "he came to know that a slap from a loved one will never give pain other than an emotional touch."

" I thought that she was the only girl in this world who slapped his love for giving chocolate and he is the only one who said I love you while his girl is slapping him."

After some more days they had another chance to meet but this time along with her, A girl with positive vibes came to the station that day he found a sister from another mother. She is her roommate and a good friend to her. A new relation was found in the same Indian railways. All three of them became a little family. A family full of supportiveness and filled with love. This had become another chapter in their lives. That relationship with his sister became much stronger in the railway station itself. She used to tie a " " rakhi " to him.

The story is not yet finished. Every life has a Bullseye moment. Here that moment came to them at this 9th platform from the secunderabad. On the day 11 October. That's the day he waited for months, that was the day that made their bond much stronger. On that day they came to know how much they love each other. and also they came to know that they cannot live without each other. For any human being in their life there will be some moments which make their whole life more beautiful and the moments which are responsible for their love are the unforgettable moments.

Those unforgettable moments are created in their life's. On 11 October. This is how the Indian Railways played a big role in their life's.

Chapter- 11

The possessiveness...

Love and possessiveness are proportional to each other. There is no love without possessiveness. The possessiveness refers to "A boy is possessive in his feelings and behaviour towards the person he loves and wants to have all her love and attention and will not share it with anyone else".

In my opinion, possessiveness is the only feeling which is pure and genuine. But the reality is that no one can accept that, as it gives all the disappointments and people are habituated to accepting the lies and ready to lead a life full of fake feelings. On the earth human beings are the most intelligent living thing, and they can overcome any fear and they will make even impossible things possible. No one can break their confidence and maturity. But a possessive feeling can make the whole theory upside down within a fraction of second. Love is full of possessiveness and that's a required eligibility to love a person but that must be within a certain limit. For Raj that became an addiction. Some people had a confusion that possessiveness and jealousy are really negative emotions. But these feelings can create an empire and can destroy in an unbelievable way history has never heard about.

It is not that easy for anyone to understand this feeling. Some will think that it is all about doubting and restricting. But a pure hearted lover will never ever have a doubt on their partner. But it's a kind of selfishness that only belongs to him or she.

Coming to our story, they were very happy and enjoying their love and they used to have wonderful day and night imaginations. As their love increased day by day along with that a strange feeling started developing inside his heart. It's nothing but selfishness. One day a boy from her childhood school called her, and she was talking to him for a while then Raj called her and he heard that she was on another call.

That was the last moment he took that word "the person you are trying to reach is in another call" just like as a normal indication. After some time she called him back and he asked her to know whom she was talking to. She told him that he was my school friend. At that particular moment this selfish feeling was born in his heart. After a long silence they started their regular conversation.

On the other day it was around 3 pm. He sent a message to her. As she was at her home he knew that she would reply to him a little bit slower. He waited for a long time, almost 2 hours. This had never happened before. He felt very tense and panicked. He wanted to know what was wrong with her, even though he didn't have a chance to call her, he called many times but she didn't pick up his call, again he decided to wait some more time and thought that she would have been sleeping for a while, with some illness or other things, millions of questions are running his mind and then he thought that, maybe she is on her monthly periods, and decided not to disturb her.

After 30 min he wanted to go to an ATM for some money withdrawal which is just opposite to his lover's home. He started to the ATM on his bike and he also hoped that he could see her for a moment. There is a walkable distance from his home to the ATM within 2 min he went there.

She sat at the entrance, after looking at her, he felt very happy because the thoughts which he imagined are not really happening, and she is perfectly alright. He wanted to let her know that he came for her and to say look at me. But she was not clear to his eyes and he started moving a little bit forward towards home. There he saw her talking to a boy sitting in front of her 2 feet away and her phone was in hands. That moment nearly killed him. His body was uncontrollable and he was very angry to look at her in front of another boy.

He wanted to stop the boy who was talking to his love and threw him out of her home. He was quietly looking at them and felt very anxious and a drop of water dripped from his left eye. He decided to stop their conversation and went towards them and stopped his bike in front of her home. She looked at him and felt suspicious. He called the boy to come away from her and he made some pointless nonsense talks with him just to stop their conversation. The girl looked into Raj's eyes and she found out the anger and the feeling he was going through. She didn't want to stay there and went back to her bedroom. Then later on he continued the conversation with the boy until he got confused and went away from there. Like that he handled his first possessive feeling.

After that she felt very sad to see his angry face. She didn't have any choice to tell him and she has not done that intentionally but it happened like that. She said sorry to him even though that's not her mistake, and she tried a lot to make him cool and normal. Ofcourse he is very angry but how can anybody be so angry while their love is trying to cool him down? That was a blessing for any person, later he wanted to look into her eyes continuously for 30 min she didn't said no to him and he enjoyed her presence looking into her eyes, and the pain he had faced was gone just like that,. what would be more blessing than having this type of love in his life. He felt very happy seeing her girl convincing him.

As she was a very broad minded and practical woman she came to know the consequences of that feeling. she felt that it had to be controlled ,she told him very quietly and explained the consequences. He accepted her words but that feeling cannot be removed that easily. Just like this above moment he faced many situations that almost killed him. But his feelings increased day by day,she understood his pain and love for her,and she adjusted with his feelings and also she started seeing his love inside the possessive feeling.

For any man that was a great blessing to get an understanding partner. We cannot decide our life's ultimate purpose,but whatever may be the purpose of your existence we can reach that only with the presence of a partner like Rose.

“If possessiveness is the out come of true Love,then anger is the outcome of true care”

But very few realise it, just like Rose, she used to get angry at him not just because of his possessive feelings but she cared about him, that's the one more sign of true love.

Chapter-12

Dear Late Reply...

In this modern world of technology the communication applications played a vital role in human life.

Based on the information history has given us we came to know that great unforgettable love stories communicate with each other through letters, birds and sign languages. Along with the letter or bird they used to convey their presence as well, the person who takes the information enjoys their love presence with the information, that was a romantic and inexpressible feeling for any one.

That concept still holds true even after so many eras have passed. To prove this we don't have any practical explanation, the person who is reading this book if you want to experience this feeling just make a call or message to your loved one and stay silent for a while , then you can feel their attention and presence along with you. The path or transportation medium is changed from real to artificial but the feel never has an end. This theory was again experienced by Raj and Rose.

As for us, the mobile phone is just an electronic device, but for them it's the tool to get them connected. Talking with her love became his daily routine, he used to enjoy that chit chat conversation, and they used to talk like a just born baby full of excitement and a pure heart.

The horrible thing to him is that we cannot communicate with many people at a time. That was just a basic fundamental but due to that many Conflicts ensued between them.

Those are the starting days of her college, she needs to collaborate with everyone and has to make a lot of friends as they are going to be together for 5 long years. By her Inclusiveness she had many good friends including boys. They used to go to college everyday and they were very enthusiastic to learn the things in their college as those are the basic foundations for their future, and every night she used to explain all the things which she learned in the day.

One of her friends tried to be a little bit close to her, and she thought that he would be her boy bestie and she told that to Raj and he felt somewhat jealous as we know he was so selfish. But he understood that the college will be like that only and they have to maintain a good relationship for a safe study and a better future. He accepted that and they will become good friends, but one day his originality came out and the boy told her that he loves her. She felt wrong and convinced him that "I will be a good friend to you but I don't love you." Later on she told this same story to her love, but he was not that broad minded person. He took that very seriously and he shouted at her for what had happened.

After listening that his body temperature rise up to its Maximum extent, his hands were shaking and his body was shivering. From his eyes the anger he is going through came out in the form of vapour. He asked her to give the boy mobile number and other details, he almost wanted to kill the boy actually. But she said don't panic so much that I can handle things on my own. He felt exhausted and felt that she was supporting the boy instead of him. That was a horrible moment for him, he cried that whole night and his body was totally dehydrated and he couldn't hold a glass of water. After a long struggle he convinced himself and there was a fire still burning inside his heart.

Any boy in the World Cannot share her loved one with anyone. That's the purest form of true love, as a normal boyfriend he always had a fear of his girlfriend's security, as the modern days are very bad for a woman. In our society we cannot provide a minimum security for a middle class girl. He always wanted his love to be away from the fake people and as he was a possessive person he couldn't handle the moment when his love was talking to other boys.

But as she has a good character she knows her limits and also knows how to handle the situation. Even though the boy who proposed, forced her to give a response in favour of him, she didn't even bend not an inch. That moment really touched Raj's heart, that moment or feeling cannot be expressed in words and can't be shown in actions. Having this type of character to a girl is very unique and they are rare too. That topic was never repeated and they were back to their regular life. But that thought which a boy proposed to his love, has made a lot of questions in his mind and from that moment he was very doubtful and suspicious of her class boys.

One day they were chatting on WhatsApp and he wanted to say something to her about something special that happened in his life. But she was replying a little bit late, and he asked her why, but she got angry at that question. He said sorry for asking that and they ended their conversation. He started thinking about the moment which was created in his mind about the other boy. He thought that boy was irritating her and she hid it, because Raj couldn't take that. But he didn't have any proof and his mind keeps on thinking about that only. He had no option except asking her. He asked her whom she was chatting with, and she suddenly said, ``Are you just doubting me?" He didn't know what to say at that moment, for just that late reply there were a lot of misunderstandings between them.

She didn't do anything wrong, and she was very clear about her life and the things which are going on in her life. That one moment which another boy proposed to her, created a dangerous tumour in Raj's mind. Whenever there is a little time gap in her reply, he will suddenly feel a different feeling, if that was continued for just 3 seconds then his body temperature will rise within a fraction of second. But there was never a doubt on his lover character, but it was all about the surroundings and the unbalanced society eagerly waiting for a chance.

His thought was very genuine but for any person it looks like doubting obviously, because he used to ask that same question repeatedly for years sometimes it went in an extreme way. It hurts both of them a lot. Then one fine day he made a decision that "whatever may be the situation and whoever comes to propose to his girlfriend" no one can change my love's character and our bonding, then why should I fear? . That thought changed him completely and they "late reply" topic never hurted them again.

It is not about his anger, possessiveness and other society problems, it's all about her patience, bearing her lover's madness and overthinking. That is why our mother earth is compared with a girl, they had a patience even the universe never knew. According to my thought she used to be treated as an angel.

" For him Rose is a simple one word definition for patience.. "

Chapter-13

A Beer To burie...

It is very common to make mistakes for any one. There is nothing wrong with it, but doing the same mistake twice is an unforgiving mistake especially for the one who made a promise and said that will never repeat that mistake again.

Some girls have a fantasy about their future partner qualities, as like any other girls Rose also had some. One of them is that her partner must have a drinking habit, but that must be in a limit. According to her the one who drinks tells all the truths when they are drunk and of course that's true. When she came to know he had a drinking habit, told him that i will never disagree with your habit and your enjoyment, drink as much as you want but you must set a limit to that habit. I don't know how many people got an offer like that from their love, he was very happy and agreed to her words. How can he say no to her as she was much more concerned about him than himself.

One day a friend of Raj gave a party on the occasion of his birthday and he wanted to go and join them. He told his love, he knew that she would never say no, but he wanted to inform her and take her permission, that was a small fantasy to him.

Then around 9 pm he went along with his friends and they started their party, there were plenty of beer bottles and some stuff as well. Before Rose came into his life he used to drink at parties without a limit, but that day he finished a beer and later his friends started drinking another bottle. He was very forced by his friends to drink along with him, but the words said by his lover were going like a soft melody. He decided not to drink that bottle and stop himself and be in a limit, but his friends were not letting him do that. With the help of some other funny topics he managed to distract all of them and gave his beer to a side person.

It's not his greatness and I'm not conveying that he is the only lover in this world, but I'm trying to say that even an addiction can be healed and controlled with love but we need to have the right person in our life to lead us in the right direction, just like Rose in Raj life.

On the day June 10 which is his birthday day they were happy she was the one who wished him first at exactly 12 am and that was a memorable day to him, but unexpectedly he did a big mistake that night, which hurt her a lot, the day was very quite and normal around 5 pm his friends came to his home to celebrate his birthday, and they are four members and celebrated his birthday, later on he wanted to give a party to his friends for that he asked her opinion and she said that go and enjoy your birthday, all together they went a nearby friends home and they took some wine and other stuff along with them, that night they were very happy and drunk a lot along with them raj has forgotten the promise he made to his love, she called him many times and due to heavy rain the communication between them lost for a while, later around 11 ok she called him and asked to know his location, but that was a miserable moment to her. he told that he was at his friends home and drunk a lot and also he got vomiting that night.

She didn't say anything and she didn't want to spoil his birthday. With that concern she told him to go home and eat something before going to bed. He was totally unbalanced and his body and senses were totally out of control. With difficulty he went back home and ate some food and slept.

On the next day early morning he woke up and tried to recollect the things which are happened last night, He understood that he made a mistake and the promise given was not kept, he felt very guilty and he was waiting for her call and he don't know how to face her, and what to say to her, later afternoon time she called him and started talking to him gently and in a very smooth way, his sense told him that something is going to happen for my mistake, she simply asked that, did you remember what was happened yesterday? He agreed and apologised for his mistakes, the actual story has begun now, she continuously gave left and right to him, about the disaster he made.

That was the first time he saw her originality when she got angry. Later they took a decision regarding this issue to control and make a healthy relationship. Love is all about forgiveness and she had that quality that's why she became that much closer to his heart.

If she wanted to make him correct she should have done that at the moment when he called her, but she controlled her emotion and anger just to not make his memorable day as a worst day. The moment when she heard that he drank that much to get vomit, she almost wanted to slap him left and right until the intoxication left.

That's the importance of understanding in any relationship, it's all about her unmarketable character, what more words can we say to express her character except sayin she is a goddess in his life. She was a teacher for him when she pointed out his mistakes and corrected them, she was a guide when she said a word to him and brought his life on track, and she was the god of love when he needed her caring and support in his life.

"Through Thick Or Thin, She'll Accept Me At My Strongest Love And Support Me At My Weakest"

These are the words running in his mind while she is correcting his mistakes. He felt that not to let her leave in his life and without her, his life will be a blackhole.

Chapter- 14

To The bestie...

Rose is meant to be the best person wherever she goes,because of her unique and rare character, she was treated with respect and honour. She always wanted to mingle with anyone within a short time,and she wanted to have a lot of friends.

But everytime we cannot get in return what we have given, in terms of human relationships that was a massive destruction. He always had a fear that his love would also get treated like many other girls in her own circle, because she trusts everyone blindly; she expects that every one is pure-hearted in her friends list.

In her school days she had some friends and they meant a lot to her. They were together in all the good and bad situations, but with time priorities may change in an unimaginable way. She thought that those friends are her besties forever,but at a particular incident of time they hurted her a lot, one of them used to hurt her many times,with regular intervals but Rose never wanted to take revenge or anything on them. She used to be like her as always, in fact she used to go from them in every situation even though they disappoint her feelings and emotions, that can't be possible for any one. It requires a strong heart and a brave soul. That was the first moment a bestie's relationship disappointed her.

One their school friends a boy was her classmate all most about to 9 long years and they never had a strong bonding between them, but after some years he came in touch to her and used to talk to her daily, their day to day conversation made them somewhat closer and she thought that this boy will be a perfect bestie for her and good friend she never known. Their childhood memories made them much more closer and they decided to be besties, she used to enjoy his funny chit chat conversations and she was happy for having a male bestie, But she did a mistake again, as we know that she is a very soft heart person, she believed in him that he will be a good friend to her, but one fine day he proposed her. Of Course she doesn't have any feelings for him except friendship, but once that feeling comes into mind it will never be removed. That was the second bestie pause for her.

During her college days another person from her close circle repeated this same scenario again.

As a boy he knows about the surroundings and society much better than rose. As humans we have feelings and a blessing to explore and share our emotions, that makes us differ from animals and other living things, and we are all selfish for our loved ones, keeping that in mind he used to say to take care all the time wherever she go, and tried to restrict her not to talk with others who tried to flirt with her. He always used to look at all the people in a negative way , but not to judge their characters or any other aspect, just for the sake of his love safety.

But she is an amazing problem solver, she used to handle her own things, she always wanted to be an independent woman but love cannot let you be alone right, he always wanted to stand towards her.

One of her best qualities is that forgiveness, that's one of the best qualities among the many popular and greatest personalities.

Forgiveness can even lead to feelings of understanding, empathy and compassion for the one who hurt you. Forgiveness doesn't mean forgetting or excusing the harm done to you or making up with the person who caused the harm. Forgiveness brings a kind of peace that helps you go on with life.

"I believe forgiveness is the best form of love in any relationship. It takes a strong person to say they're sorry and an even stronger person to forgive"...

--- Yolanda Hadid.

She used to forgive all his mistakes and misunderstanding and his negative feelings on her friends and relatives, of course he was incredibly possessive and selfish about her, and Never wanted to see anybody with her, according to him it's caring but she didn't look in that way, she felt a lot disturbing and irritating but she never ever complained about that she was uncomfortable for his way of approach regarding her friends. That's the loyalty and trust she always wanted to make, but Raj was an idiot and a little bit crack too. He always understands her feelings a bit late.

Chapter-15

A Train To Vijayawada

Someone said that love is full of pain, but in my point of view it always gives happiness but that pain is the result of the actions done by the persons who are in love.

The pain which doesn't have any medicine, which cannot be controlled by words. It is a phase that everyone in love must experience at least once in their life, destiny made Rose and Raj to experience that feeling.

Rose always had a clarity about her future, and she came to know that they both will never gonna be together forever as she knows the mentality of her father, and he was completely against love and all other stuff. Her father is the first and foremost priority to her, no one and nothing will come in front of her father to her, and she was very ambitious to the goals she and her father together dreamt to achieve. It is hard to leave the love of their life for anyone but in front of her father's love and her ambition Raj was a tiny pyram particle. Then she decided to break the relation and put an end to him. One fine day she called him and told him that this is never gonna happen, don't try to be in contact with me.

He had no words to say and nothing to ask, because she gave an answerless clarity to him. Then Raj decided to give her own privacy and he took a decision not to contact her and let her live her life, without any regrets.

On the day 12 November he made that decision. Until then he never had a day without seeing her face and without hearing her voice. He was good for one day and to move on from her life he thought of all the possible combinations. He wanted to keep himself busy all the time and hangout with his friends. But In reality we cannot get what we want. It may be a person or a feeling. He tried a lot and motivated himself every minute and every second. The daytime was somewhat comfortable but the nights were horrible and hateful. He owns his mobile phone but it's gallery was owned by her. The pictures are the short term therapy to his pain and suffering and he used to see her pictures constantly and repeatedly. There were about a hundred pictures, for they are not just the pictures but emotions. Seeing her face is an addiction to him, he never started a day without seeing her ,but the god decided to make them suffer much harder.

It costs a limitless amount of courage to accept the pain and try to live like a normal man. Days are going but he was stuck on that day when she left him. Whenever he tried not to think about her ,the memories and the moments they had together kept on playing in front of his eyes like a Marvel movie. He spent about 6 days without eating anything perfectly and spent time with himself for many sleepless nights. Her voice recordings are one of the best controllers to his emotions, he used to listen to her voice like a song which used to make his soul and heart very calm.

Suddenly after trying all these things he was not at all satisfied. He wanted to call her and explain his situation, but he stopped because her reasons are much stronger than his emotions and feelings. All these situations bring him to a state of mind that he felt completely lost. He didn't have any clarity about his feelings, but for a moment he thought that he would go into depression. His inner feeling was that he lost the most valuable thing in his life which cannot be received again, he lost the reason for his existence, he lost the reason for what he used to be proud of..

With all these thoughts in his mind, he was completely out of control. For a moment he just wanted her presence and felt her existence. He thought that he would be somewhat better if he went to the place where they used to meet each other, and could feel her presence. Immediately when that thought came in his mind, he started to the Secunderabad railway station within a 5 minutes he took a bus nearby and the bus was full empty, he sat in a in the middle seat of the bus and put on his headset enjoying some melody songs and their conversation and the moments are recollected in his heart.

At exactly 9 pm he reached the station and went to the platform 06 D9, he sat in the place where she used to sit all the time when they meet, and he went to imagination where she used to do all silly and naughty thing, and after many days he smiled in the railway station, everyone around looked at him like a fool, because he is laughing without any reason but nobody no the romantic movie which is running inside his heart.

He spent almost 2 hrs sitting in the same place then a train came to the platform and stopped in front of him, that day he don't know that it was a magic or a miracle, the train which arrived to the station is the same train they used to travel, and the same places just stopped in front of his eyes. By seeing the place in the train they sat together, he felt like the memories in the train are calling him to come. The train started moving and without any other second thought he just took the train without buying a ticket, luckily the railway TC did not come to that compartment that night. He started enjoying it by recollecting the moment they had in the compartment and he was a little bit happy, and came far away from the depression point.

After some time in the midnight unexpectedly he had a call from her. He was very happy and excited to get a call from his love. He had a lot of things to share with her, but the reasons she said were again stopped him. He answered the call and started talking to her in a very exasperated way. She heard the noise of the running train and she got very panicked and started asking him to know where he was. As an answer to that question he rejected her call and she keeps on calling him. For a moment later he picked her call and talked with her in a polite way, and he answered that he was okay, and he was on a train going to Vijayawada without any reason. She shouted at him to explain in detail and he told the whole thing which was happening in his day. After that she stood very silent and not responding to his words, and she hung up the call. He felt that something was wrong with her and called her back, she said "hello" that one word changed everything, he came to know that she was crying and feeling regret, and she thought that Raj's life became miserable just because of her, that's not true anyway.

She was continuously crying, her voice became a disaster. Raj had a sudden thought in his mind that, what he was up to and what he was doing, he was supposed to be the only person who made her happy all the time, but now he became the one and only reason behind her crying.

For the first time in his life he felt so much regret about his character, and that's the first time he came to know what regret looks like. At that moment genuinely he thought an idea would go away from her life forever. Then he tried to make her normal for a long time ,he convinced her that it was not her mistake and said not to cry. He took a promise from her saying " never ever cry no matter how worse the situation will be ".

For a man it is hard to see his love crying just because of him. That whole night they were expressing themselves, around 3 am they slept.

And the next day early morning at 5 am he reached his destination and decided to go to the Durga devi temple. He took a bath in the Krishna river and went to the temple and wished for his love, happiness and her dreams and ambitions,and the same day he came back to the city.

For a normal middle-class girl with an extraordinary character, full of dreams and ambitions,and with a supporting father,and a lovable family. She deserves a happy and joyful life. In her whole life she never hurt anybody directly or indirectly, for her talent and the concentration she deserves many awards, rewards,and perfect life partner. Instead of having all that she felt a regret that because of her a person's life got ruined.

" what will be a curse more than that to a girl like Rose"

It is good to know that at least now, Raj came to know the importance of happiness of the girl he loves, the happiness may be with or without him. Giving a Peace of mind and a joyful life to her is more important to him.

As we said only from one point of view...

"" She also went through the same feelings and emotions which Raj had faced, but compared to a girl and boy it is much more difficult for a girl to manage her feelings and emotions. As a boy they can share their feelings to anyone without any restrictions but girls like Rose never ever had a chance. That's the torcher a man never knew ""

Hope ...

Being Able To See That There Is Light Despite All Of The Darkness....

It is not destiny that determines love. It is a choice. Our so – called destiny is a lie. Relationships last long not because they are destined to last long. But no one can't understand this. Practically we live our lives Just for the sake of others' opinions.

True love might start off with that first look or fate pushing you together but it only goes on as long as you want it to,almost 20 years of existence with very few people on this planet. Love is not a destiny.

Her father is a person with clarity and purpose, he planned his children's future before they were born, he is a perfectionist and a man with a billion dreams for his children. Any father in the world never ever wanted to share his little princess with anyone. But that can't happen, he needs to fulfil his childrens destination. Any woman deserves a man like her father, caring, humble, genuine,and with limitless love without any expectations.

As a lover Raj always wanted to be just like her father but their situation is quite opposite to his expectations.

Compared to the Rose family they have everything: pride, respect, money, background. They were a very respectful family in their locality and they were perfect and fit to the society both professionally and economically.

For a middle class father it is important to secure his family and their reputation in the society. He was completely against the things which lead to damage to his reputation, unfortunately love is one of them. In their family everyone used to take his permission and opinion whatever the situation and topic was, that is how he was respected. It's not because of the money they have and their behaviour but it is for the designation he made himself without having any help from others. His childrens are also one of the reasons for his reputation and respect, his daughter is an "MBBS DOCTOR ", his son was a becoming "IAS "officer and he was the most popular photographer in their area.

But whereas with the Raj family, there is nothing to tell, if we could write an essay on his family and background that will not be more than 1½ paper. He was the first born and he had a little sister, with an handicapped father and an innocent mother. Money is the major problem and it is the solution to any situation or a relation. Coming to respect, in this universe there is no human being respected without money and pride.

But for her these are all nothing, she didn't want any money, name, fame and reputation instead of love and Caring. He always had a feeling that if he lost her, no one could fulfil her space in his heart. She strongly believes that her father will never agree to her love, and she doesn't want to break the trust upon her. There is not even one percent of chance for Raj to live with his love. He is not fit to be her life partner, in any aspect.

In every one's life there will be a one special person who means to you more than anything else in the world, and when you find her, you fight for her, you risk it all, you put her in front of everything. Your future, your life, all of it and maybe the stuff you do to achieve her isn't so clean, but it doesn't matter anymore." And that's Rose for Raj.

Even though he didn't have any options or alternatives he never wanted to stop loving her and trying to be her life partner, because he had the ultimate weapon with him, a weapon cannot be destroyed and it's the bridge towards a bright future with his love, it's nothing but "hope.." .

If love is at stake, put everything at stake, what's the fear? If you win it's marvellous, but even if you lose, it's not a loss..

His one and only way to pursue a wonderful life with his love is hope. All the Darkness surrounded his life like a vampire, in that darkness his hope became a light to show him the way to his destination. All that he wanted to try for her till the last moment, if he tried genuinely he may get the life he wants, if not atleast he will have a little bit satisfaction for trying that much harder for his love. As we always know that believing is achieving, if you believe what you want to do, the entire energy surrounded by the universe will help you to achieve what you wished for.

" Rose is not just a lover to him but she is a second mother, a good friend, a guide, wife, soulmate, teacher and his guardian angel. This book is written by a person who loves his lover unconditionally and wants to give a wonderful life to his love and to enjoy every minute in the precious journey of life along with her, and that's me."

Her name is Dr.Amulya MBBS, and I love her....

Message.....,

To

Dear love.

Love, I need your love, much like the air that we need to survive, you are that one single person who breathes fresh life into my being and makes me feel whole again. I know that there can never be another like you and just having you by my side makes me feel so alive. There could have never been another for me and even you know that. To stay by your side, for your love makes everything seem so much more beautiful. I love you and I know that a lifetime with you would give me the greatest happiness that one could desire.

Baby, you know as well as I do, how bad. I am at expressing and writing things. Nothing makes me feel more inept, but I know how much you would love a letter so here I am telling how I feel. I love you, these are three simple words but they are the truest words that I can say to you. Through all the troubles, the hardships, trials and tribulations, I always know that I shall forever be as faithful and devoted to you as I am now. You are my one true love and I will stop at nothing to keep you happy.

The moment you accepted my proposal I came to know that you are everything to me, and you are mine just mine.

I never ever wanted to see you while crying, but the moment when you cried in front of me, I felt completely lost. That's the most unimaginable moment in my whole life. I thought that I just wanted to run away from you at least that will stop you crying.

I never wanted to leave you alone, whatever in bad and good situations I always wanted to be with you. But unfortunately all my assumptions went wrong. This over possessiveness and over caring Killing me inch by inch everyday. O couldn't control myself if i see you talking to others, that call holds saying " she is in another call", the closeness you are maintaining with your friends which leads to avoiding me for a while. I don't know why I'm feeling like these, but I have a fear that my feelings will kill you one day in the name of doubting,

My heart beat and the pain I went through can't be explained to anyone in any manner. If I still try to be with you it may be full of restrictions and misunderstandings. I don't want to ruinie beautiful life with tragedy and painful suffering. And I don't know what to do, I can't live without you and your love, and I can't restrict your life. But these feelings are corrupting my mind and heart.

As I always told you that whatever may be the situation, I'll never stop trying to get in a way of success to be with you, to share my life with you and to enjoy your presence till my last minute. I know it gives a lot of pain to both of us to get away from this. But I don't see any other way out. As I told you that I'm going to make you cry this year.

I don't want you to feel regret about me and I don't want to be a black spot in your success story. I wish that you will forgive me for what I have done to you. As you know, I never had luck in my entire life but now I'm going to challenge my luck and fate to achieve a life that I have imagined with my Rose. I hope you will be fine and safe.

With Love.

Chinnu....